

CBS is showing restraint by not airing an already produced piece about the Bush administration this close to the November election. Sinclair Broadcasting should do the same, yet it plans to show an anti-Kerry "documentary" just days before the election. This is not responsible use of the public airwaves and should not be allowed.